MONDAY, OCTOBER 3. 1737.

No. 709.

Petersburg, Sept. 6. O. S.

HE Czarina lately received some Letters from the Count de Munich, dated the 4th and 9th of August, O. S. whereof the following is an Extract.

'The Victory gain'd over the Infidels at Oczakow, appears every Day more and more important. According to the last Letters from thence above 18,000 dead Bodies have already been found, and others are discovered every Day along the Sea, and under the Ruins of the Houses and Magazines. Several Persons who had endeavour'd to conceal their Birth and Quality, begin to unmask themselves. Among others, there's the Son of the Bashaw who command'd last Year in Asoph, and is now in the Crim Tartary with his Wives and Children; a Son of Achmet, a Bashaw with 3 Tails, with all his Family; and several others of the same Rank; who report, that the Aga of the Janisaries lost his Life also at the Defence of Oczakow, to which he went with several other Officers of Merit, to signalize his Zeal and Bravery. The Artillery found out hitherto amounts to 107 Brass Cannon, 20 Iron Cannon, and 9 Mortars of Brass; of which the Bombardiers that were bred up under the famous Bonneval, made good Use during the Siege.

'The Booty was the greater, because the principal Men of the City and Garrison did not dare to secrete their Effects, for fear of alarming the rest of the Inhabitants. I have given the Seraskier Leave to send 2 of his Men to Bender, to let his Family know that he is in the Land of the Living. By the Journal I have hereunto annex'd, Your Majesty will find, that I spent all the Month of July between the Bog and the Niester, and waited all that Time for the Grand Vizier; but there being no Forage in all the Country, I was under a Necessity of re-passing the Bog. Nevertheless, on the 26th of July, O. S. which was about 5 Days after we began to pass it, I sent a Detachment of the Cossacks of Saporogh, in 26 Long-Boats, towards the Mouth of the Niester, in Order to execute an Enterprize; which, if it succeeds, will alarm the Enemy to some Purpose.'

Vienna, Sept. 16. O. S. Letters from the Congress at Nimrow say, the Turkish Plenipotentiaries have actually rejected the Uti Possidetis; and that their Reis Effendi declared, 'That the Grand Seigneur, so far from being oblig'd to consent to such a heavy Imposition, had much more Reason to demand an Equivalent of the Emperor, because his Imperial Majesty had broke the Treaty of Passarowitz, whereas the Porte had observed it strictly; inasmuch that they did not take Advantage of the Opportunity they might have had, of attacking the Emperor, while he was at War with France and Spain.' They say, that this Minister hinted, moreover, that the said Equivalent ought to be Belgrade, or Temeswar. But the Reis Effendi's Argument is fallacious, in his making it a Merit in the Porte for not falling upon the Emperor, at a Time when the War of Persia cut them out so much Work that they were not in a Condition to attack his Imperial Majesty.

Geneva, Sept. 16. O. S. The Council having another Meeting 4 Days ago, in which it was proposed to accept the Mediation offered by the King of France, the same was resolv'd on, but no farther than as the same should be consistent with the Edicts; the Uproar of the Malecontents being so great that they did not dare to accept of the said Mediation purely and simply. The next Day the French Resident sent for the 34 Chiefs who had been with him before, as Deputies from the 17 City Companies; but they excus'd themselves from going to him upon several Pretences; so that the Resident, to shew the Continuance of his Regard for the Commonalty of the City, caus'd the Speech he had propos'd to make to their Leaders, to be distributed abroad. The same Day there was an Assembly of that called the Council of 200, but only 12 or 15 of the Members met; and the Council of 25 was reduced to no more than 7 or 8. The Commotion of the Malecontents was so great, that most of their Demands were granted; but the Members of the Council who went to make a Report thereof to the Resident, and to the Deputies who represented the Cantons of Zurich and Bern, were ill received, and told, That all they had done was null and illegal; and that every Thing that should be transacted thereafter upon the same Foundation would also be invalid. Then the Resident signify'd to the Heads of the Malecontents, That he would give them 2 Days longer, to determine themselves as to the pure and simple Acceptation of the Mediation. Out of the 17 Companies that met the Day before Yesterday, 10 accepted of the said Mediation, and 7 refus'd it; but Yesterday 6 of those 7 likewise accepted it. During the Height of these Commotions, the Representatives of the Cantons of Zurich and Bern gave Shelter to the Chief Syndick, from the Fury of the Populace, and the other Magistrates retired to the House of the French Resident, which was full of their most valuable Effects.

St. Croix in Barbary, Aug. 16. The Moor formerly mentioned, who was so much cry'd up for his Sanctity, after having left some Militia in this City and its Forts, went to Taradant, the Capital of the Kingdom of Sus, where he was unanimously proclaim'd King by all the Inhabitants of the Country, the Highlanders who had been at Variance being reconcil'd; and they have a very great Esteem for their new King, in hopes that he will soon extend his Conquests, and march towards Mequinez, the Inhabitants of which City are terribly divided. Some Merchants of this City went to Taradant, to congratulate the new King on his Accession to the Throne, and also carried him very rich Presents. He gave them a very gracious Audience, and tho' he excus'd himself from taking their Presents, he assur'd them of his Protection, and has actually taken off the Prohibition they lay under of transporting Corn, &c. to foreign Parts, so that there's great Hopes this Prince's Government will be mild.

Paris, Sept. 19. O. S. The Cardinal de Fleury has been indisposed since his Arrival at Fontainebleau, which is imputed to the Change of Air. The four Persons lately apprehended for some imprudent Expressions, which gave Rise to the Reports of an Alteration that was going to be made in the Ministry, are under daily Examination. These false Rumours were principally aim'd at M. Orry, Comptroller General of the Finances, a Minister whose Zeal and unexceptionable Conduct have secur'd him the Confidence of the King, and the Esteem of the whole Court: And we are assur'd, that the Count de Maurepas, Secretary of State, has writ a Letter to him by Order of his Majesty, wherein he tells him, that so far from being under any Concern for Reports of that kind, he ought to despise them, and that the Authors thereof being detected, they would be treated in such a manner, as to convince the Publick how much the King is offended with those who censure the Conduct of the Persons whom he honours with his Confidence.

The Commerce of our India Company flourishes to such a degree, that they talk of sending 19 Ships thither this Year.

We have Copies handed about here of a Letter from St. Ildefonso, dated the 11th of September, of which the following is an Extract.

'The Spanish Court has not been more Numerous, Gay, and Splendid, for a long time, than it is now at the Castle of St. Ildefonso: The perfect Health which his Catholick Majesty enjoys, and the good Humour he appears in, diffuse an Air of Satisfaction thro' the whole Court, which is visible to every Eye. There's an agreeable Variety of Pleasures at St. Ildefonso, such as Walking, Fishing, Hunting, Comedies by Command of the Royal Family, and Concerts of Musick. The latter is the Evening's Diversion, when the fine Voice of Farinelli is always most of all admir'd, especially by the King, who is never weary of him. These Pleasures are to be succeeded by a military Diversion, which, at the same time that it will contribute to their Majesty's Entertainment, will serve for the Instruction of the Princes of the Royal Family: This is to be a Camp, which is to be form'd in the Plain of Segovia, and to consist of 8 or 9000 Men of the finest Troops in the Kingdom. The Camp is to continue about 3 Weeks, when all the Exercises in the Art of War, and all the Motions in Attacking and Defending are there to be performed.

From the London Gazette.

Vienna, September 18. N. S. General Seckendorff is continuing his March towards Zwornick: But he must take a small Place which lies in his Way, called Uchtza, where there are some Fortifications and a very strong Garrison, besides a separate Body of Turks intrenched behind it. It is suppos'd that General Seckendorff may have arriv'd at Uchtza about the 16th Instant. It is assur'd that Prince Ragotzi and Bonneval are marching with a Body of Turks towards General Wallis in Wallachia. The Duke of Lorain, who had been out of Order, but was so well recovered as to dine in Publick last Sunday with the whole Imperial Family, fell ill again on the Monday following of a feverish Indisposition, which still continues on him; however the Physicians did not apprehend any Danger this Afternoon. Prince Charles his Brother arriv'd here this Morning tolerably recovered, but so weak, that neither he, nor the Duke and the Duchess will accompany the Emperor to Halputn; for which Place his Imperial Majesty sets out To-morrow Morning.

Vienna, Sept. 21. N. S. We are now in daily Expectation of a Courier with an Account of what may have happen'd at Uchtza, about 5 Days March from Zwornick. This Court has received Advices of the 1st Instant from Velt Marshal Munich's Army, that he intend'd to march to Bielgorod upon the Black Sea, and to take that Place; in which Undertaking it is thought he may be able to succeed, with the Help of the Russian Fleet. His Royal Highness the Duke of Lorain is much in the State of Health that he was 3 Days ago.

Copenhagen, Sept. 28. N. S. The Funeral of the Margravine was perform'd on the 19th Instant, with Royal Solemnity. Their Danish Majesties remov'd to Fredericksbourg some Days before, and are since gone to Walloe. The Privacy which their Majesties continue so long to observe, is probably owing to the Tenderness of the Queen, who is as yet too sensible of her Loss to undergo the usual Ceremony of receiving Compliments of Condolance upon it. The Prince of Wirtemberg-Oels set out Yesterday for Germany, proposing to return hither in April. M. Benzon, who has been appointed President of the Chamber of Finances, and is also to be one of the New College of Commerce, is now arriv'd here. Last Tuesday died suddenly, at the Age of 51, Major General Reventlau, who command'd the Regiment of the Prince Royal.

They write from the Hague, that the Directors of the East India Company have sent Deputies thither to confer with those of the States General, and to desire the Renewal of their Grant, which tho' it has still 3 Years to come, yet as they want Alterations to be made in the Conditions and Articles of the Grant, proportionably to the Alterations that have happen'd in Commerce, they think they cannot set about it too soon.
